

2004

ELLIE KRAKOW

The Body is Severed but the Human Remains (Colonoscopy Figure)

Thank you to the interventions, influences, tools, treatments and architectures that Make me know my body,
Let me have my body, and
Help me survive my physicality.

Curated by Mo Kong and Wangui Maina

June 10 – July 15, 2021

Reception: June 10th, 5–7pm

Below Grand

formerly Super Dutchess

53 Orchard Street, New York, NY 10002

Hours: Monday-Saturday 10am-7pm, Sunday 10am-5pm

www.belowgrandnyc.com

Doctor Radi Shamsi
 Asacol
 Artist Alina Szapocznikow
 Rowasa
 Prednisone
 Nurses, especially night nurses
 IV stand with fluid drip Caring partner
 Bedside commode
 Artist Hans Bellmer
 Morphine
 Doctor Eric Vasiliauskas
 Doctor Stephen Targan
 Residents
 Colonoscopy
 Tools that enter inside
 Artist Ruth Duckworth
 Tools that see the unseen
 Artist Beatrice Wood
 Tests that test flesh
 Artist Lygia Clark
 Computerized body monitors
 Artist Fernand Leger
 Rolling carts
 Sanitized metal trays
 Small implements on them
 Writer Elaine Scarry
 Linoleum underfoot
 Artist Dan Graham
 The nurse who caught the dosing mistake
 Artist Nan Goldin
 Remicade
 Artist Marisol
 Family members
 Infusion nurses, especially Stanley and Monica
 Butterfly needle
 Butterfly pose
 Doctor, so briefly mine that I forgot your name
 Flu shot
 Doctor Thomas Ullman
 Fasting
 Prepopik
 Anesthesiologist who held my hand
 Colonoscopy
 Artist Barbara Hepworth
 Artist Henry Moore
 Pneumonia vaccine
 Fasting
 Prepopik
 Anesthesiologists who gave me Propofol
 Colonoscopy
 Tools that cut the insides
 Artist Hannah Wilke
 Artist Lee Lozano
 Research
 Regular infusions
 Routine bloodwork
 Routine skin checks
 Routine colonoscopies
 Doctor Elana Maser

2021